

Continuing Education Program: Working With Divorcing Clients

Plan now to attend the first Society-sponsored continuing education program of the 2008-09 year: "Tips for Working With Divorcing Clients."

Have you heard any of these one-liners about the subject of divorce?

- My husband and I divorced over religious differences. He thought he was God, and I didn't.
- Marriage is a three-ring circus: Engagement ring, wedding ring, and suffering.
- Then there was a man who said, "I never knew what real happiness was until I got married — and then it was too late."
- The trouble with some women is that they get all excited about nothing. And then they marry him.
- When a woman steals your husband, there is no better revenge than to let her keep him.
- Marriage is the triumph of imagination over intelligence. Second marriage is the triumph of hope over experience.

Jokes aside, working with clients who are going through a divorce is no laughing matter. This program will provide you with some helpful tips on how to work with divorcing clients and will touch on financial planning issues related to handling property, splitting the house and career assets, maintenance/alimony, child support, pensions and more.

The presenter for this session will be Richard Dwornik, a member of the Omaha Society of FSP Board of Directors. Richard is an Omaha attorney who has been practicing for over 10 years.

He is the founder and president of Dwornik Law, PC LLO, and limits his practice to helping clients with their estate planning needs and asset protection needs, along with representing individuals in bankruptcy proceedings.

Through his estate planning, probate, and bankruptcy practice experience, he has gained a unique and valuable perspective on dealing with the issues and problems presented by divorced or divorcing clients.

Who should attend? Financial planners, insurance producers, investment advisors, retirement counselors, estate planners, and business planners.

Educational Level: Intermediate to Advanced

Continuing Education Credit: This program will provide two hours of CE credit for Nebraska Insurance, CPE and CFP®.

President's Message

From Ron Niederhaus, CLU, ChFC

The month of September always has special meaning: new beginnings. It is the beginning of fall, school, football season, and of course — our Society program calendar! It is also time to refocus on our clients and put the busy summer activities behind us.

Our first meeting of the 2008-09 year will be Thursday, Sept. 25 at the Regency Lodge. Richard Dwornik, J.D. of Dwornik Law will present a two-hour continuing education program on how to work with clients who are going through a divorce. Unfortunately, we all deal with this on an ongoing basis.

Your board is excited about the future of the Omaha Society of Financial Service Professionals. Our top priority is always to bring you quality programs that enhance your ability to serve your clients and grow your practice. But we also understand that "Membership Matters." Without an active, growing membership, we would soon wither away and become irrelevant. Do you know someone who has come into the business and could benefit from the networking opportunities and education programs we offer? Invite them to a meeting. We have many great membership programs and activities that you will hear more about during the year.

All of us need to extend a big "Thank You" to our 2007-08 president, Mark Lyons, and our Board members. We were recently notified that we received Gold Medal of Honor status and earned Honorable Mention for Chapter of the Year! Thanks, Mark, for your great leadership!

The Omaha chapter will be recognized at the Society of FSP Forum meeting in Las Vegas from Oct. 31-Nov. 2. If you have not yet registered, there is still time! You can register online at www.financialpro.org. Earn up to 12 hours of CE credits, with additional credits available for CFP® and CPA. There is no better place to learn while enjoying the sights/sounds of Las Vegas.

If you haven't visited the Society web site lately — www.financialpro.org — I encourage you to do so. The site continues to evolve and there are new enhancements being added all the time. One of the more recent is the Professional Interest Sections — which allow you to search for reference material based on a particular subject matter. For example, if you want to learn more about Investment Management, you click on this subject. The web site is one of the best resources we have available and many have said it is worth the cost of membership. There is also a Publications section, a bookstore, and a powerful search engine that allows you to look for articles on just about anything related to the insurance and financial services industry. Check it out!

On behalf of the 2008-09 board and officers, I want to say "Thank You" for the confidence you have placed in us to lead you into the future. Please do not hesitate to let us know how we can get better. Your feedback is important!

2008 FSP Forum: The Experience That Gives You the Edge

Las Vegas, Nevada hosts this year's premier meeting for FSP members and other financial service professionals from October 31 to November 2, 2008 at the JW Marriott Las Vegas Resort and Spa. The 2008 FSP Forum will offer quality advanced continuing education, combining theoretical and practical knowledge in ways to help you best serve your clients. You can meet colleagues from around the country, take advantage of special networking and social events, experience the unique culture of Las Vegas, and leave with a renewed sense of excitement about financial services.

Choose among a wide range of sessions and earn CE credits in a variety of designations. Tour the exhibits in our state-of-the-art Professional Resource Center for the latest industry developments. Learn from leading product and service providers in Professional Showcase Sessions. Mingle with friends and colleagues in the always popular hospitality suites.

This year's Opening General Session features Mike Schlappi, four-time Paralympic Medalist and two-time World Champion in Wheelchair Basketball. Mike's presentations on how to succeed in the face of difficult circumstances have entertained and inspired audiences worldwide. Don't miss his keynote address, "If You Can't Stand Up, Stand Out!"

Back by popular demand this year are Section Info-Bytes, 50-minute sessions for Professional Interest Section members led by Section chairs and/or editors. Also, again this year, registrants will be able to download speaker handouts and outlines prior to the Forum through a special arrangement with Digitell Corporation.

In response to feedback from past attendees, who asked that the meeting be shortened to allow for less time out of the office, this year's Forum is two and one-half days, from Friday through Sunday. Daily sessions will end earlier as well, giving you more time to enjoy Las Vegas.

Visit www.FSPforum.com for more information.

Spotlight on the Foundation at 2008 FSP Forum

The Society of FSP's 2008 Forum in Las Vegas will provide an opportunity for its charitable arm—the Foundation for Financial Service Professionals—to continue to build relationships with its friends and supporters through the following special events.

Foundation Awards Dinner.

The Foundation Awards Dinner will be held on November 1 at the JW Marriott Las Vegas Resort and Spa. The highlight of the evening will be the announcement of the 2008 recipients of the prestigious American Business Ethics Award. The dinner will also honor the recipients of the Paul S. Mills Scholarships for 2008 and the recipients of the 2007 Ken Black, Jr., Journal Author Awards.

6th Annual Foundation Golf

Tournament. The tournament will take place November 2, 2008 at 12:30 p.m. at the Angel Park Golf Club in Las Vegas. The proceeds benefit the Foundation for FSP and its many activities. For more information and to register, go to www.financialpro.org/foundation/Contribution/golf_tournament.html.

Omaha Chapter Receives Honorable Mention & Gold Medal for Excellence

The Omaha Chapter of the Society of Financial Service Professionals (FSP) was the Honorable Mention winner among large Chapters in the Excellence in Chapter Achievement (ECA) program for the 2007-08 year. The Omaha Chapter again received a Gold Medal of Honor in the Society's ECA program, which recognizes FSP chapters that excel at building a strong local organization and offer exceptional support to the national Society.

The ECA program groups the Society's nearly 200 chapters into one of four categories determined by membership size. The Omaha Chapter competed in the size category for chapters with more than 90 members (excluding the 30 largest chapters).

"This award is a tribute to our member volunteers whose hard work and loyalty made it possible," said Mark Lyons, 2007-08 president. "We are fortunate to have a dedicated group of professionals who truly believe in the Society and what it stands for. These hard-working people are extremely unselfish in sharing their time and their talents to help achieve our Chapter's objectives, and to create a professional home for their colleagues in the industry. We are all very proud of that."

All Society chapters are eligible for an award in the ECA program. Winners are chosen from those chapters that voluntarily submit entries. Scores earned in a variety of categories — including membership growth, strategic planning, public relations and advertising outreach, participation in professional development, and attendance at Society events — determine the final rankings.

Chapters that achieve a certain percentage of the total possible score receive the Gold Medal of Honor. Award recipients will receive special recognition at the Society's 2008 Financial Service Forum in Las Vegas from Oct. 30-Nov. 2.

Did you know your clients are 6 times more likely to become disabled than die in the next year?

Did you know most estate planning is nothing more than death planning?

RICHARD M. DWORNIK
ATTORNEY AT LAW

At Dwornik Law, we take a different approach to Estate Planning. We have developed what we call the Life Plan. The Life Plan is a comprehensive package which includes all the necessary planning tools to insure that our clients' estates will be managed as they would want if they become disabled or incapacitated in addition to how their estates should be distributed upon their death.

We would welcome the opportunity to meet with you to explain how the Life Plan can benefit your clients.
